DESCRIPTION

Open Engineering invites manuscripts for the Special Issue published in cooperation with The 53rd Polish National Conference on Non-Destructive Testing (KKBN).

The KKBN is the largest annual Non-Destructive Testing (NDT) event taking place in Poland marking its 53rd edition in 2026. It serves as a key forum for discussing cutting-edge advancements in non-destructive testing, sparking inspiration for ongoing research, and fostering new professional connections.

The 53rd KKBN offers participants a prime chance to share expertise, explore recent market innovations in non-destructive testing and technical diagnostics, and network effectively. This special issue showcases carefully selected, peer-reviewed papers presented at the KKBN conference. It covers a broad spectrum of topics, including non-destructive testing and evaluation, diagnostics, and quality control.

Topics of interest include (but are not limited to) the following aspects:

- Application of non-destructive testing in industry, construction, transportation, and energy sectors,
- Techniques, tools, devices, and software for non-destructive testing,
- Technical diagnostics of equipment and structures,
- Training and certification programs for non-destructive testing personnel,
- Emerging regulations and standards in non-destructive testing,
- Accreditation processes for non-destructive testing laboratories.

More information about the Conference, such as deadlines and preliminary schedule, can be accessed at <http://www.kkbn.pl/>
